

CountryHideaways
Escape to the Yorkshire Dales

Mallyan Wynd, Preston under Scar

This cosy apartment faces south and looks out over mid-Wensleydale to the steep slopes of Penhill and offers magnificent views from the apartment and the lawned gardens. It is truly a country hideaway.

The main entrance opens into a comfortable lounge and dining area with the original stone-flagged floor and traditional dales open hearth fire-range. Coal and logs are provided for cosy nights around an open, crackling fire, roasting chestnuts when they are available.

Large sliding double glass doors give magnificent views over the well kept garden and the splendours of Wensleydale beyond and enable you to continue enjoying the garden after dark with well placed garden lights amongst the flower beds in the summer months. These doors also open onto a patio area with garden furniture to enjoy outdoor meals and further relaxation.

Off the lounge is a small, well equipped kitchen. A separate hallway leads to a shower room with toilet, shower and washbasin. Further along the hallway is a comfortable bedroom with a pretty four-poster bed and pine furniture.

Originally an 18th century cottage, dating from 1776, Mallyan Wynd is now a self-contained, garden level apartment. Access is along a stone-flagged wynd (rhymes with find) which is the Yorkshire name for a passage often leading to hidden delights. Mallyan Wynd certainly lives up to this Yorkshire name.

Preston under Scar

Preston is a small south facing village hugging a sheltered escarpment on the slopes of mid-Wensleydale facing the magnificent slopes and steps of Penhill. The village grew around the once rich lead mines whose remains and ruins are still evident in the landscape. The houses too reflect the mining history as well as agricultural roots with quaint stone terraces and cottage gardens nestling to form a tranquil haven on the hillside .

The elevated position gives stunning views over Bishopdale, Wensleydale and out towards the Vale of York. Many footpaths centre on the village so there is plenty of opportunity for walking and also within walking distance, on the same escarpment, is the stately Bolton Castle where Mary, Queen of Scots was imprisoned in 1568.
