School House, Askrigg

School House is a traditional, detached, stone-built cottage located on Mill Lane, a quiet cul-de-sac, which leaves the west side of the village, facing down towards the picturesque beauty spot of Mill Gill. The kitchen, bathroom and lounge have been tastefully modernised, but the cottage still retains rural features such as the raised open hearth and the stone flagged staircase.

A small reception hallway leads to the base of these stairs and has doors to the lounge and kitchen. Through the kitchen is an under stair utility store with a door to the rear of the cottage. A stone-flagged patio garden gives ample space for outdoor eating and relaxation. Off the patio is a fuel store and the side entrance to Mill Lane.

Upstairs there are two bedrooms, one with a double bed, the other with two singles. Each have built in wardrobes. The bathroom has a combined shower-bath suite with toilet and washbasin.

School House offers good quality accommodation in a tranquil setting with nearby pubs, restaurants, convenience store and church of this popular and historic village.

Askrigg

Once a bustling market village of upper Wensleydale, Askrigg still reflects its history with stone flagged pavements leading to a cobbled market place centred by an ancient cross and overlooked by a 13th century church.

The main street, lined by impressive terraced dwellings, is the beginning of many wynds and narrow side streets with yards and gardens that lead on to footpaths offering circuital routes with splendid views of Wensleydale backclothed by the steep fells of Addleborough.

Compare the white cascades of nearby Mill Gill and Whitfield Gill Force to the local meandering of the river Ure before it too rushes to fall spectacularly at Aysgarth.

For the essentials and pleasures of life, Askrigg offers three public houses, a general store, cafe, delicatessen and bakery.
